

Hyperlexia

About Sound Therapy:

Sound-based therapy involves the use of sound vibration that impacts the body using special equipment, programs, modified music, and/or specific tones/beats, the need for which is identified with appropriate testing.

About Hyperlexia:

Hyperlexia is a term used when a child has a precocious ability to read words above their age level, an intense fascination with letters or numbers, significant difficulty with understanding verbal language, and difficulty socializing appropriately. Hyperlexia has characteristics similar to other disorders like autism, ADD, behavior or language disorders. (access www.hyperlexia.org)

Therapies Offered:

AIT, Listening Training Programs, Tomatis®, Fast ForWord™, Interactive Metronome™, BioAcoustics™, and other home programs. Therapies are only suggested after completing the Diagnostic Evaluation for Therapy Protocol (DETP®) which determines if any sound-based therapy is appropriate and when it is, in the correct order. We utilize The Davis Model of Sound Intervention®.

Sound-based therapies are not medical treatments. They do not cure or treat medical disease conditions. They work on supporting change in auditory processing, learning, development, and wellness. The work of The Davis Center is no substitute for a medical diagnosis and treatment.
